A relation R on a set A is called antisymmetric means	$s \forall a \in A \forall b \in A \left(\right. \left(\right. \right)$	$(a,b) \in R \land (b,a) \in R$	$(a \) \rightarrow a = b \)$